Amended Complaint

Ping Yip (Winnie)

Honorable Patty Shwartz

Case Number: 2:08-CV-4746 (ksh)

Plaintiff(s)

Dated October 6, 2009

VS

HUGS TO GO, LLC (Tax #0600315652)
Audrey L. Storch
JAAM'LLC

Defendant(s)

P.O. Box 2130, Wayne, NJ 07470-2130
Or
8 Mayfair Drive, Wayne, NJ 07470

Plaintiff requests a Judgment to distinguish between the four copyrights: which ones of them are legal and to whom they belong. Plaintiff request JAAM'LLC to be re-joined to Case Number: 2:08-CV-4746 (ksh), according to the Rule 4:30A (1) General Principles.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

In year 2000, Plaintiff invented a children's sound book, which was patented and copyrighted in the year 2001. In or about June 2001, Audrey L. Storch (the owner of JAAM, LLC) ordered those books from the Plaintiff. Since those books sell very well, she wanted to compel Ping Yip to sign an Exclusivity Agreement, and declared that if Ping Yip refuses to sign this Agreement, she will not pay the money she owed her from the last order. Ping Yip rebuffed this unreasonable demand. Then Audrey L. Storch never paid back the money she owed, and went to register another copyright using the same book Ping Yip made. Audrey L. Storch told everyone visiting her booth at all exhibitions, "Those books are my invention and design", and showed to the potential buyers the fake copyright document, plagiarized from Ping Yip's book. It causes Ping Yip many difficulties to sell her books because no marketing company wants to promote a product that has two copyrights. They don't know which one is the true one. Some buyers even came to Plaintiff's booth to censure her saying that Plaintiff has stolen Audrey L. Storch's book. The falsehood Audrey L. Storch made seriously hurts Plaintiff's business, and is causing Plaintiff a lot of distress. Plaintiff has children and an old mother whom she has to support. The case really affects her everyday life. JAAM, LLC in this case made about a million dollars in sales, and the profit is about a half million dollars just from the books Audrey L. Storch stole.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

1. (Related the case) On October 19, 2006, Wai Yip Int'l Corp filed a complaint in the United States District Court District of New Jersey against JAAM'LLC infringing upon Ping Yip (Winnie's) patent and copyright. Case No. 06-5032 (KSH)

2. In 2007 Plaintiff argued that Audrey L. Storch should be re-joined in the Case No. 06-5032 (KSH). Rule 4:30A. "The entire controversy doctrine, an equitable preclusionary doctrine whose purposes are to encourage comprehensive and conclusive litigation determinations, to avoid fragmentation of litigation....."
3. In 2007 District Court denied Plaintiff's request. The Court believes Audrey L. Storch can not be a party in JAAM'LLC case.
4. Since Audrey L. Storch is not a party in the JAAM'LLC case, but she claims she is the author of the copyrights plagiarized from Ping Yip's Old MacDonald's Farm and "ABC" books, she should be treated as an individual. She has told everyone that the books were her invention, and so Plaintiff should sue her person in a separate case. On April 23, 2008, Plaintiffs (Ping Yip, Cheung Fung Tsang and JianHua Fei) filed a complaint against Audrey L. Storch for plagiarizing their work and deceiving The United States Copyright office. Case No 08-2370 (Cheung Fung Tsang has his voice and singing recorded on the ABC book, and JianHua Fei is the illustrator in both books).
5. On July 28, 2008, Hon. Susan D. Wigenton denied this case without trial, and the reason was that this case was similar to Wai Yip Int'l Corp v JAAM' LLC Case No. 06-5032 (KSH). It really confuses me, since Audrey L. Storch is not a party in the JAAM'LLC case, and that has to be a separate case.
6. In case No. 06-5032 (KSH) Judge Katharine S. Hayden believes Audrey L. Storch can not be a party in JAAM'LLC case, and in Case No 08-2370 Plaintiffs sued Audrey L. Storch as an individual Author who plagiarized their work. Since this is a different party, this case should not be denied because of a reason similar to Wai Yip Int'l Corp v JAAM' LLC Case No. 06-5032 (KSH).

7. In February 2008, Audrey L. Storch (the owner of JAAM, LLC) knowingly transferred her part of the inventory and remaining funds to her new company Hugs to Go, LLC, and fraudulently filed bankruptcy for JAAM, LLC.
8. Hugs to Go' LLC, the new company of Audrey L. Storch still continues to sell Plaintiff's books after the JAAM, LLC bankruptcy. (Evidence submitted in Case No 08-4746 (KSH))
9. The Plaintiff does not know where she can file a complaint against Audrey L. Storch's false copyright. Why should the victim continue to suffer because of this falsehood?
10. On September 23, 2008, the Plaintiff filed a new complaint against Hugs to Go, LLC and Audrey L. Storch because the other case was already closed by the Court. The Plaintiff should have recourse to justice in at least one case. She cannot be denied every complaint she files.
11. In February 2009, Defendant filed "Request to Dismiss the case" argued "on January 14th, 2009. Honorable Judge Shwartz ruled NO MOTIONS may be filed by this Plaintiff against this Defendant until ruling has been made on Defendant's Motion to Dismiss in Case Civil Action No: 08-cv-4746(k)." "Judge Steckroth also ruled his court would NOT accept any motions from this Plaintiff concerning JAAM'LLC and Audrey L. Storch. Not only did he bar the Plaintiff from filing any more motions in his courtroom, but also ruled numerous times in Defendant's favor that ALL of Plaintiff's statements, evidence and so forth are dismissed."

12. Plaintiff cannot believe the judge of "THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY" will only do Audrey L. Storch's favor and deny all of Plaintiff's statements and evidence without finding the truth. This should be impossible to happen in this country.
13. On September 15, 2009, Plaintiff filed a motion to request a hearing day.
14. On September 28, 2009, UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE Katharine S. Hayden "declining to grant defendant Hugs to Go's request for sanctions at this time as it is permitting the plaintiff to attempt to cure the deficiencies in its Complaint against defendant Hugs to Go; and the Court declining to grant defendant Storch's request for sanctions because this ruling has ended this case against her and would be asking to the ultimate sanction a party could receive in a civil case; and the Court notifying plaintiff, however, that future filings against defendant Storch that mimic this Complaint or that embody the claims already the subject of the complaints that plaintiff or her company attempted to pursue against defendant Storch in Civ. No. 06-5032(KSH). Civ. No. 08-2370(SDW), and Bankruptcy No. 08-13514(DHS), may result in sanctions"

15. How can the court without distinguishing the truth follow Audrey L. Storch's instruction to dismiss the claims against defendant Storch?
16. On September 28, 2009, the court "FURTHER ORDERED" that, no later than October 13, 2009, the plaintiff shall file an Amended Complaint against Hugs to Go that sets forth the facts that provide a basis to assert that it has violated the patent laws by selling the books covered by the patent and describes the proof upon which the plaintiff will rely to support this assertion."
17. Since the Court closed all No. 06-5032(KSH), Civ. No. 08-2370(SDW), and Bankruptcy No. 08-13514(DHS) cases, plaintiff requests that Case No.2:08-CV-4746 (ksh) should have a final judgment, according to the Rule 4:30A (1) General Principles.

ACCORDING to THE "FURTHER ORDERED" Plaintiff submits true evidence to prove HUGS TO GO'LLC and Audrey L. Storch violate the law.

In November 2007, Audrey L. Storch started a new company, Hugs to Go' LLC. In February, 2008 Audrey L. Storch filed bankruptcy for JAAM'LLC. After March 2008, she was using Hugs to Go, LLC to sell the books as well as her other products. On May 10, 2008 she sold an "ABC" book to Jennifer C. Haughey and Audrey L. Storch arranged the books to be sold to customers through Hallmark Gift Lane after her first company JAAM'LLC filed for bankruptcy. (See transcript of phone conversation of May 2008).

When JAAM'LLC filed for bankruptcy, it should have reported all her Assets and inventory to the Bankruptcy Court. Then how could Hugs to Go, LLC have the books to sell? How could Audrey L. Storch have the books sent to Hallmark Gift Lane and sold to her customers after March 2008?

On June 24, 2002, Audrey L. Storch registered a Copyright for Old MacDonald's Farm and on May 30, 2006, she registered another Copyright for the "ABC" book. However, Plaintiff already had the Copyrights for both these books. This strongly proves that Audrey L. Storch committed a crime.

From October 19, 2006 until now District Court did not have any adjudication for either the JAAM'LLC or the HUGS TO GO case. District Court using contradictory excuses denies all cases. It means that Audrey L. Storch is allowed to plagiarize other people's work for her own, or that District Court can not handle this case. Then should Plaintiff file a complaint in Criminal Court?

Plaintiff requests a Judgment to distinguish between the four copyrights. Plaintiff requests JAAM'LLC to be re- joined to Case Number: 2:08-CV-4746 (ksh), according to Rule 4:30A (1) General Principles. Audrey L. Storch should be punished by the law.

On the website scroll down below the book and you can click on the icon to hear it sing. Spot Washable.

Again due to unusual circumstances you can purchase these products from Giftland Hallmark Store while supplies last. JAAM LLC is NOT involved in ANY shape or form in this sale. The products are all safe for purchase and use and have always received top reviews and look forward to it for many more years.

Should you need to purchase quantity, a bit more of a price break might be given. Please feel free to discuss. All depends on availability. Thank you and Giftland looks forward to hearing from you.
